

Landfill operator certification renewal

Type II and Type III Landfill Operators are required to renew their certification every three years. The expiration date is listed on your wallet card. If you do not have the Continuing Education Contact (CEC) hours needed to renew your certification before it expires, you will be required to retake the certification class and pass the exam at your expense.

Direct and indirect training hours

Direct training hours must be delivered or accredited by the MPCA, and directly related to solid waste activities. The hours assigned will equal the total hours spent in training – one hour in class equals one contact hour.

Examples of Direct Training are:

- MPCA Continuing Education
- RAM/SWANA and Solid Waste Administrators (SWA) webinars and conferences (requires proof of attendance)
- Hazardous Waste – Ten Steps to Compliance
- Household Hazardous Waste
- Stormwater and Erosion Control
- Soils
- HazWOPER
- Asbestos
- Computer Assisted Design (CAD)

Indirect training hours are not directly related to solid waste activities, but are considered beneficial to operator education. The hours assigned will equal half the total hours spent in training – two hours in class equals one contact hour.

Examples of Indirect Training are:

- OSHA Safety
- CPR and First Aid
- Public Health
- Lead Abatement
- MSHA

If you have any questions about class accreditation or using classes for CECs, please contact:

Sarah Lerohl, Training Specialist
by email: sarah.lerohl@state.mn.us or phone: 218-302-6617.

How many Continuing Education Contact hours do I need?

Type II

Municipal Solid Waste Landfills

You will need 18 contact hours of training every three years. Nine hours can come from the indirect category, and nine hours will need to come from the direct category.

Type III

Construction & Demolition, and Industrial Landfills

You will need 6 contact hours of training every three years. Three hours can come from the indirect category, and three hours will need to come from the direct category.
